Partnership with Cuyahoga County

We are excited to announce a new partnership with Cuyahoga County and County Executive Chris Ronayne. Through the partnership, the organizations will work to develop and encourage event volunteers and debut the County’s first ever aid station on the marathon course.

“As a longtime resident of Cleveland’s Edgewater neighborhood, I’ve enjoyed a front row seat to the marathon and all it brings to Cuyahoga County,” said County Executive Chris Ronayne. “This is what my vision of a Healthy Cuyahoga is all about. We’re bringing together residents, showcasing this region to people from across the country, and delivering on the promise of what a green city on a blue lake can provide. I’m excited to explore all the ways the County can elevate this race as a true regional asset and inspire more people to join in the fun.”

“We’re excited to partner with the County and to see them out cheering on and aiding runners on the course,” said Race Director Ralph Staph. “We simply could not put on this race each year without the incredible work of our volunteers, who care so much about this race. The County is going to be an invaluable partner engaging and expanding this critical element of our event.”

Cleveland Marathon Charities Making an Impact: 40 Charities Strong in 2025

Lace up and run for a reason! Your participation in the Cleveland Marathon isn't just about crossing the finish line; it's about transforming your run into a powerful act of change. By supporting our official charity partners, you're not only achieving personal goals but also making a real difference in the lives of those who need it most. Every stride you take, every dollar you raise, fuels positive change in our community and beyond. Join us in making every step count.

The Cleveland Marathon's Charity Program has been instrumental in supporting local organizations, raising over $655,500 for 32 partner organizations in 2024.

In 2025, the marathon has expanded its philanthropic reach by partnering with 40 official charity organizations, with FrontLine Service rounding out the team. This year, the goal is to surpass last year's fundraising total, further benefiting the Cleveland community. Participants can contribute by starting a fundraising campaign as a runner, supporting their favorite runner, or donating directly to a charity of their choice

New Official Charity Partner FrontLine Service

FrontLine Service is proud to join the Cleveland Marathon as a Charity Partner for the first time. Founded in 1988, FrontLine Service began as a team of direct outreach workers who saw the crisis of a swelling population of individuals experiencing homelessness and severe mental health symptoms. Seeing the great, unmet needs of this unique population, FrontLine’s original outreach workers went directly into the community, seeking out those in crisis, to build trust and offer services. They believe in the individual’s ability to choose what’s best for themselves and to make impactful change in their journeys no matter how difficult. If you or someone you know is experiencing a crisis, call, chat, or text 988 for assistance 24/7.
